Colville locals Anne and Josephine

Community Connections Collaboration

Kia ora Colville community, what a lovely summer it's been! And now the intensity of the days surrounding summer solstice have begun to settle. Soon we will enter the dreamy days of autumn in which the earth shows its true abundance. On February 1st, is the Celtic seasonal celebration known as 'Lammas', from 'loaf-mas', the time of the harvesting of the first grains to be baked into a loaf of bread. May your harvest be plentiful! In Aotearoa NZ, on the 6th of February we commemorate the signing of Te Tiriti in 1840. See page 4 for an event relating to this momentous day.

Kiaora koutou,

Wow, Colville Junction has only been open for a couple of days as I write this and yet we're already feeling in the hum of activity in Colville. The Colville Store is looking beautiful with lovely flowering plants outside, some fresh paint and of course the beautiful new mural. I would like to mihi to Briar and Anna van Dort for their vision with the Colville Creative Pop-up. And of course, we were so fortunate to receive funding from Creative NZ to make that vision a reality (and support from CILT who have provided funding from Manatū Taonga for two of the workshops). A shout out to all the staff at Colville Junction that helped make that vision a reality – particularly our Nicole who does so much behind the scenes. As I mentioned last year, we've sadly said goodbye to Briar but we are very fortunate to welcome Teuane Tibbo and Peridot Mawson as the new project coordinators (see page 5). Teuane has been doing an amazing job as the coordinator of the monthly crafternoons and Peridot coordinates the Moehau Clay Club. The Creative Pop-up will start again on 22 February with the first Crafternoon tea session (see page 7).

You will soon see our posters and brochures around for the Colville SafeKids campaign too. We hope to have a new notice board and sign for Colville Junction out soon too!

Youth Group is returning again this term, activities yet to be confirmed – please look out for a notice through the school. Thank you to all our whānau members who volunteer to support this—we couldn't do it without you. If you're home schooling in the area please contact us if you would like your kids to participate.

We are very fortunate to have Moea Armstrong back again this year delivering a workshop on Te Tiriti, this is free so do let us know if you're interested in attending – see page 4 for more information. This will be our second year with Waitangi Day as a national holiday on 6 February – commemorating 184 years since signing.

TE TIRITI O WAITANGI WORKSHOP

Friday March 22, 2024

9AM - 4PM

At the Colville Public Hall

The training will cover historical context, current context and issues implementing Te Tiriti. It is facilitated by Moea Armstrong.

Free to attend, however spaces are limited.

Registration is essential.

To register please contact:
communityworker@colvillejunction.co.nz
07 8666 920

Kia ora community,
 We are Teuane Tibbo and Peridot Mawson and we are taking over from the lovely Briar as the coordinators of the Colville Creative Pop-up. For those who don't know, this is a pop up art space at the Colville cafe, every Thursday from 9-3, a place for us to gather and work on our art, craft, writing etc. There's lots of laughs, free tea and coffee (and maybe even a bikkie or two!). We'll also have Teuane's Crafternoon tea on the first Thursday of the month, (Feb crafternoon is delayed till the third Thursday, which is 22 Feb) plus other exciting workshops throughout the next few months. We look forward to seeing you there!

- Teuane & Peridot

Kia Ora Colville,

We hope everyone has had a happy and safe new year!

Firstly, we would like to acknowledge the Health Trust on your hard efforts for keeping the grounds looking tidy. The place is looking great.

Secondly, Colville Community Health Centre wants to remind people of our operating hours.

Monday, Wednesday & Friday's
8.30 am - 4.30 pm.

Outside of these operating days, Coromandel Family Health is able to assist.

Our rural afterhours service is reachable evenings and weekends by phoning the clinic number:

07 866 6618 or alternatively you can phone 0800 2 KA ORA (0800 2 52 672)

If you haven't logged into the MyIndici app please speak to reception about signing up.

This is also a great opportunity to update your details.

COLVILLE COMMUNITY HEALTH TRUST

Hello everyone,

I hope you all have been enjoying the glorious sunshine we have had. It has certainly made for a wonderful summer so far with lots of visitors coming to enjoy what Colville and beyond have to offer.

A huge thank you to Colville Junction and to all involved in getting the generator installed at the Colville Community Health Centre. The Generator was 1 of 3 purchased for the community through funding that Colville Junction received from the Ministry for Primary Industries. The installation of the generator means that the Colville Community Health Centre can continue to operate if there is a power outage which is essential for our community.

The Coromandel Family Health team are here on Monday, Wednesday & Friday each week, 9am - 4.30pm. If you have previously used 'Manage my Health' talk to the team about MyIndici, an online tool where you can access results, request repeat prescriptions and make appointments.

You can call on the original Clinic number 07 866 6618.

We had a very successful F.A.S.T training with the Students & Staff at Colville School presented by Dr Kate, Jay and Sammy along with St John team members. The students worked on presentations that delivered the F.A.S.T message and there were some excellent posters and videos presented at the Schools end of year celebration where the F.A.S.T message was delivered to Whanau and friends. Thank you to the Stroke Foundation for their support in this.

The F.A.S.T. campaign encourages everyone to learn the key signs of stroke and to think F.A.S.T. act fast and look out for each other by calling 111 if they suspect a stroke. Prompt action can save lives - as well as improve recovery.

Mahamudra Centre Update

Hello Colville,

You may have seen our signs out front saying we have a retreat in progress and that we aren't offering accommodation. Some of you may think this means we are closed.

We are currently offering space for those wishing to do solitary retreat. We have two people who are here long term to work on their practice and others coming in for shorter stays. So the centre is more quiet and not as accessible to the public.

But you are welcome to come and walk around the Stupa anytime. It can be a really beneficial practice to walk around the stupa to help clear your mind. The stupa is the symbol of the fully enlightened mind, which resides in all of us.

In keeping with my tradition of sharing from the 16 Guidelines for a Happy Life, this month I'd like to share about Forgiveness. Forgiveness is the capacity to reclaim our peace of mind when something has happened to disturb us. Forgiving is not the same as forgetting. It does not mean that we gloss over the harm that has taken place or pretend that it never happened.

Forgiveness is an internal journey of freeing ourselves from the clutches of resentment, anger, and grudges. It's about creating a space within us where understanding and love can flourish, not just for others but also for ourselves. Forgiving can set you free.

So let us ponder on how we can embody this beautiful virtue. How can forgiveness manifest in our daily interactions? How can it rebuild relationships, or make our emotional life less complicated? Take a moment to consider one person or situation where you can apply forgiveness this month. The act may be small, but its impact can be life changing.

Big love from the whole team and Mahamudra.

Energy and Dedication On-Site at The Colville Project

Despite The Colville Project (TCP) officially taking some time off over the summer, with the generous assistance of our small but powerful community, we have collectively started to get our hands dirty.

January saw us commencing our on-site weed control journey. This was enabled by the 'cashing-in' of two long-standing offers of support from members of our wider community. As TCP now has the land to house the project and is ready to progress with physical project development, we are now ready to accept and action such long-standing pledges.

A long-standing pledge of funds from Kevin Parry has been received, and coupled with a further long-standing pledge of support from the Kelsey family, has enabled some initial weed clearing along TCP's access-way. Thanks Kevin for your donation of funds, and thanks Kelsey Construction for your donation of time and equipment use over this hot summer.

Kelsey Construction machinery heads to the TCP site.

We aim to continue with this work later in 2024, but thanks to this initial work there is easier entry to enable pest and weed control volunteers to start working to enhance TCP's environment and biodiversity. Pest and weed control is an important and essential first step for The Colville Project. Please let us know if you can help with this task - volunteers welcome! Keep your eyes-out for working bees advertised through the Pānui, TCP's facebook page, Volunteering Waikato (<https://volunteeringwaikato.org.nz>) and Community Waikato's bulletin (sign up here: <https://www.communitywaikato.org.nz/bulletin-links>) and of course, please get in contact with us directly to join our volunteers list by emailing Katie: admin@thecolvilleproject.nz.

Thanks go to TCP Trustee Richard Campbell, who was active in organising these contributions and in supporting and contributing to the process. And, thanks and apologies go to Wendy and Mark for any inconvenience these works may have caused. We are committed to collaborating closely with our neighbours.

Our community's donated time, money, and energy is very encouraging. If you have had a long-standing offer with, or commitment to, supporting the development of TCP or you would like to make a new offer of support, please be in touch admin@thecolvilleproject.nz We welcome all forms of support including donations and/or pledges of money, labour, equipment-use, expertise and the like. We look forward to hearing from you.

We hope you and your whānau are having as satisfying a start to 2024 as we are.

- Katie and The Colville Project Team

MEG Updates

A little bit about possums

As part of the Summer Holiday Programme that ran in January, MEG hosted Richard Johnson, a conservation dog ranger who travels out to predator-free islands with his detection dog, Flint, to locate the presence of a stowaway rat incursion on the island.

It was fascinating learning about how scent works and how the best time to detect a scent is in the morning or in the evening as the sun, as well as water, will make it harder to find, and that scent travels in a cone-like shape. Interestingly, one of Richard's pearls of knowledge that really stuck is what a pōhutukawa tree is actually meant to look like.

He said it wasn't until he travelled to offshore predator-free islands that he saw what a pōhutukawa tree is supposed to look like, full of fresh growth with incredibly thick foliage, not like the endlessly possum-pruned versions seen on the mainland. Possums were first introduced into Aotearoa in 1837 and were allowed to be brought to NZ until 1921. By 1946, they were officially declared a pest, and by 1950, they inhabited over 50% of Aotearoa. By 1980, it was estimated that their population was between 50-70 million, with trappers exporting 3.2 million pelts in the year 1981. By 1990, they had officially arrived on the Coromandel Peninsula. We used to have kakariki here in the hills of the Coromandel Peninsula, it's interesting to imagine what the peninsula would look like without the presence of possums.

Upcoming this February

To make the most of the good weather, we are looking to organise some more ginger bashes, and volunteers in Port Charles are still working on weed control. Become a member of MEG and help make a difference. See: www.meg.org.nz.
