A fantastic festival unfolded in Colville recently with so much to enjoy. This photo captured some of the smiling servers on the Friday night Colville Sings the Beatles. A huge amount of behind the scenes work goes into these events, and the community it most grateful for the effort!

Kia ora tatou katoa,
What a magnificent spring it's been!
The Colville Festival was an absolute hit and my musical play The Wedding Dress made its debut in Coromandel Town to rave reviews. On November the 1st, our seasonal calendar calls us to celebrate Beltane and the beginning of summer days. Traditionally, it was a time of flowers, bells, dancing and merry-making. Often people would dance around a spring pole or a Beltane fire! I hope you enjoy this magic time of year. Brooke, Pānui Editor

Kia ora koutou e hoa ma,

Wow, what a wonderful month we've had. A HUGE, HUGE shout out to Steve and Ella for coordinating the Colville Festival—what a gift! I also wish to echo Steve and Ella's thanks (on page 10) to everyone involved, including our amazing funders. Such a delight to see our community perform. 'The Youth Band' did an amazing performance on the Family Variety night (Ava had some very enthusiastic supporters in the audience!). For many seeing the tamariki from the School and Pre-school perform was also a highlight.

We had our second photoshoot for the Colville SafeKids campaign over Labour weekend too—in case you saw us in the street and wondered what we were doing! (More information on the campaign on page 4.)

We have some wonderful things to look forward to this month. Teuane has arranged the gifted Peri to lead us in making clay Christmas decorations during the next Crafternoon session on Thursday 2 November (page 17; the December Crafternoon will be decorating these). There will also be two youth workshops this month with the amazingly talented Caitlin Moloney (see page 14). We are so fortunate to have this funding from Creative NZ for the Creative Pop-Up—and very lucky to have the wonderful Briar van Dort coordinate it. But sadly Briar will be moving away over the summer to Nelson with the family so we're looking for someone else for the coordinator role—if you're looking for an opportunity to develop your own artistic skills please consider applying (details on page 7).

The Budget Advisory Service is coming back to Colville on the morning of 21 November. Those who used this service last month found it very helpful. We are very grateful to CILT for bringing this service to Colville.

Larisa Webb, Colville Junction

Colville SafeKids Campaign

The Colville Junction and CAPS Hauraki, with funding from ACC, are developing our local campaign to empower adults to prevent child sexual abuse. As we mentioned in our article last month, this is an issue throughout Aotearoa New Zealand and we aim to create a safe environment for all children in the Northern Coromandel. The campaign involves a media initiative, encourages open conversations, and educates adults on protective behaviours. It emphasises community values, collaboration, and the importance of trust, involvement, and open communication. Key messages revolve around collective effort to protect children. There are nine key messages and we will highlight some each month for the next few months.

Key message 1: Instincts are guardians: teach kids to trust their gut.

Instincts are the silent protectors that guide us through life. They are that gut feeling that something isn't quite right or the hairs that stand on the back of your neck when a situation feels off. This instinct, particularly in children, can play a critical role in preventing child sexual abuse.

Teaching kids to trust their gut is crucial. When we empower our children to recognise and act upon their instincts, we give them a powerful tool to help protect themselves. If something doesn't feel right, it probably isn't. Encourage open communication with your children so they feel safe sharing their concerns.

Why is this important? Child sexual abuse often happens in secret, and children may be too afraid or unsure how to speak up. By teaching them to trust their instincts, we provide them with an early warning system, allowing them to recognise and respond to uncomfortable situations.

To learn more, consider attending our campaign workshops, where experts can provide guidance on fostering this important skill in children.

Empower your child to trust their gut. It could make all the difference.

Key message 2: Stay involved: know what your kids are doing, with whom and where. In our fast-paced world, it's easy to get caught up in our daily routines and let our tamariki roam free. However, staying involved in your child's life is essential for their safety and well-being. Knowing what your kids are doing, with whom, and where they are at all times helps create a protective environment. This knowledge allows you to identify any potentially risky situations and take appropriate actions. Communication is key; keeping the lines of dialogue open ensures your child feels comfortable discussing their experiences and concerns.

For more information and guidance, you can reach out to local resources such as CAPS Hauraki at 07 868 8644, or the national line at 0508 326 459. Don't hesitate to seek support, as these organisations can provide advice and assistance to help keep your children safe. Together, we can protect children from sexual abuse.

Budget advisory service coming to Colville!

Want help managing credit card debt? Or advice on your WINZ entitlement? Guidance on balancing your bills? CILT Budget Advisory Service provides amazing free advice every third Tuesday of the month at Colville Junction.

To make an appointment please email info@colvillejunction.co.nz, or phone 07 8666 920. They provide support to help people gain control over their financial lives.

The next Budget Advisory Service will be on 21 November 2023, 10:30- 1pm, at Colville Junction. Feel free to pop in our make an appointment through CJ.

CILT
COROMANDEL INDEPENDENT LIVING TRUST
SUPPORTING OUR COMMUNITY

Update from The Colville Project

Over this period our team has been grateful to meet collaboratively with representatives from across TCDC. We extend our thanks to Mayor Len Salt for his instigation of a series of Housing Hui across the region. Representatives from the TCP team attended the hui in Coromandel along with representatives from other invited local organisations/housing initiatives, the Coromandel Colville Community Board (CCCB), TCDC Council, and Aksel Bech from the Waikato Housing initiative. It was a great hui and we hope there will be the opportunity for discussion-of-the-day to inform positive outcomes for our TCP communities.

The TCP team also met in Colville, with representatives from TCDC's staff, Council and CCCB to both provide updates about TCP, and discuss ways in which TCDC and TCP can work together to support the development of TCP, and ultimately the positive outcomes for our communities that TCP seeks to enable. We were joined later in the day by Mayor Len Salt, his wife Svargo and dog Molly, and some of the TCP team accompanied the whole TCDC contingent for a quick visit to the TCP site (see picture).

The TCP team is grateful for the positive support and feedback from those present. Mayor Len Salt stated that he is impressed by the community-led aspect of The Colville Project, and other representatives shared positive feedback about TCP's website, strategic vision and planning, communication and ongoing commitment to consultation. Our meeting was a great platform to move forward from.

Finally, like others around the northern Coromandel Peninsula region, the Colville Project Team welcomes the Coromandel Family Health Centre as the new provider of core clinical services in our community. Nau mai, haere mai. We look forward to working together in the future.

Ā Mātou Kōrero, Our Story

What an incredible first couple of weeks back at school after the term 3 holidays! We have had four experts from around New Zealand sharing their skills to inspire Colville Learners this week. Alne, from Cricketsmash, Hamilton taught us cricket skills. Neve, from the Royal New Zealand Ballet, Wellington led us in a dance workshop. On Friday of the first week, we had two visitors - Jamie from Pare Hauraki shared stories of Moehau by teaching us how to tie a traditional harakeke fishing net and Stella, our Duffy Ambassador, spoke to us about balance and diversity in our natural environment. In week 2, Seth and Molly visited us from Volleyball Waikato. They are teaching Kāhu and Kererū classes volleyball skills for the next 2 weeks and have invited us to participate in a Volleyball Festival with other schools from around Coromandel.

Ako, to Teach and to Learn

We would like to thank the Colville Community and visiting whānau for all their support at the Colville Festival Variety Show. We felt really proud to share our learning from this year. Our Cultural group performed items that celebrate our bicultural and multicultural heritage.

We are very proud to announce Colville School will be featured in a frontpage article in the last issue of the Education Gazette for 2023. Proof copies of the article are available to look at in the Colville School library. We will share this with you later in the year.

- Susie Sumner, Principal

FESTIVAL

Colville Community - what an amazing community we have. It's a pleasure to see everyone helping/getting involved/enjoying/setting up/participating/practicing/cooking/baking/serving/singing/playing/cleaning up/dancing and everything this festival is bringing in and out from us. We love seeing the happy faces and this is what keeps us continuing to do it! We'd like to thank everyone.

A big thank you to Matt on sound and much more; Josh on lights and much more; Nathan on a lot and all the time, Briar and Anna Van Dort working with Colville Junction for the Creative NZ grant for the community which brought some wonderful performances to the festival, Tom Van Dort and Douglas always there to give a hand.

On food: a huge thank you to Janet who worked with Mary-Jo and Jules on the beautiful Friday night supper spread with the help from all the wonderful behind the scene bakers; Rob Boesnach, who with his great team Julie, Alanna and Joanna, created the yummy pasties; Larisa for organising the Sat and Sunday night food with all her great helpers. Thank you to Nicole McCauley, so much help behind the scene. On the doors: Hannah, Colin, Jo, Brian, Lottie (not an easy task...). A HUGE thank you to Colville Store for selling tickets (not so easy...), thank you to all the cleaners, and to Alistair, Brenda and again Larisa and the Colville Junction team who play a huge part of the organising. Thank you to Annette and Ben, to the food servers on all nights, for Luke doing video and Lirina for designing and decorating the hall with Steve. Thanks so much to the workshop tutors for sharing your skills, thanks to their helpers and the participants. Thanks to the great acts on Saturday night, thank you Colville singers and bands, Colville School and

A few musicians from the night lead the crowd in singing All Together to close the show.

Preschool, the Youth Band, Dj Tiny Diva, The Twisty Twinz and Banana Jolie again. Just fabulous. A huge shout out to our funders Creative NZ, Creative Communities NZ, Manatū Taonga & Trust Waikato. Thank you to our food sponsors - Coromandel Four Square and Colville School who provided all the free food for tamariki on Sunday night and to Pak'n Save for supporting our bakers with ingredients for Friday night. Thank you to Hike & Bike, Driving Creek and Suzie Carson for the wonderful prizes. Thank you also to Colville School and Colville Junction for subsidising Colville School and Pre-School tickets for the Family variety night. See you next year - a 10th anniversary festival !!!

- Steve & Ella

A groovy time for all at Colville Sings the Beatles

Another truly enjoyable night of entertainment unfolded at this year's Colville Sings the Beatles. Across the evening, we heard from a huge number of talented performers. Some gave memorable and heartfelt solo renditions of Beatles' songs, others smashed it out in group performances that had our toes tapping.

We were lucky to witness Anne's stage debut with her soulful voice, and to uproarious applause at that. The fifth Beatle, Paulette, made several appearances, delighting the crowd with her uniquely stylised performances. We enjoyed a sea-worthy band rocking out to Yellow Submarine, admired Matt's smooth tones in Michelle, and beheld a stand-out performance from Piri, whose voice had the audience melting as she sang While my Guitar Gently Weeps. Every performer truly deserves full recognition for their special contribution to the night. The evening closed with an all-in rowdy chorus of Hey Jude, before we packed up and left with smiles on our faces.

One of the highlights of the evening, (how do I even describe the delectable half-time treats!), was the MC of the night, a Mr Francis Mountjoy. Not only did he appear to effortlessly entertain the waiting crowd with trivia questions, anecdotes about how, when, and who wrote popular Beatles songs, and light banter that had us chuckling in our chairs, but he put the performers at ease, making the transition between songs smooth and stress-free. A truly welcome addition to

Actor Francis Mountjoy delights the crowd with his entertaining banter and dynamic stage personalities (yes, more than one!)

COROMANDEL TOWN FRIDAY

The Coromandel Town Friday market started again on October the 6th, 8:30 until 12.30. We will set up outside Hike & Bike every Friday for the season, with gazebos and tables of local homegrown and handmade wares. I'm excited to see some new faces and well known faces again, sharing the unique community spirit of the Coromandel Market. There will be an Italian food stall and hair braiding, baking, crafts, jewellery, pickles, spices, roti, curry and samosas, crystals, origami, wooden crafts, flowers, plants, veggies, fruit, seedlings, t-shirts, soaps, bath bombs, candles. We have honey, chocolate, kombucha, pretzels, bread, sushi, cake, gluten-free offerings, dried fruit, eggs, packaged micro greens, pies, both meat and vegetable, restored garden tools, magnesium spray, water charging plates, PC & electrical harmonisers, positive life energy products for protection from EMF's for persons, pets and home. There will be a kids corner and live music with the talented Brooke. So from now until the end of April the market will be held each Friday morning with additional special occasion Saturday markets on Waitangi weekend, Matariki, Easter, and 2 weeks before Christmas.

Locally written musical play

The Wedding Dress a huge success

It has been an absolute blast bringing my original musical The Wedding Dress to the stage for the first time. As the writer, composer, director, and actor in this production, I am incredibly proud of what has been achieved. Not only did we genuinely enjoy ourselves throughout the whole process, and especially performing to four vastly different audiences, but apparently we broke Coromandel theatre records with two back-to-back sold out shows.

I would like to thank the Colville community, many of whom made it over for the show and gave me some amazing feedback about it, but also for your ongoing support and encouragement over the years of my creative pursuits locally, and for your support and love of music in general! It is truly inspiring to be part of a community that treasures the expression and appreciation of music as the Colville Community does. As this production was considered such a success in all domains, I imagine it will not be the last of such creative works you see from me! So watch this space!

COLVILLE STORE

Thanks to the Colville Festival organisers, our community and long weekend visitors, we have had a wonderfully successful Labour Weekend. This will be a help in stocking up for the big summer rush! One other thing that will help is if all account holders pay down their accounts as often as possible - no need to wait for the 20th. A steady in-flow of money will enable us to get the stock levels high so we have what we need before, during and after the big rush. Thanks everyone, for your support.

Protecting Our Kauri

The first time I saw a kauri tree was when I was three years old. It was a very special occasion as my elderly grandmother had travelled all the way from Britain to meet me, her only granddaughter. The 309 Kauri tree stand was the first place my father thought to take his mum, who he had not seen in such a long time. It brings such deep sadness to contemplate an Aotearoa without kauri, and yet this is what could become our reality with the threat of Kauri Dieback disease. Having clean, dirt-free boots and using the boot cleaning stations when entering/exiting the bush is an essential part of respecting these magnificent trees. To learn more, please come and try Kauri Pou Kaitiaki, the 360-degree virtual reality head-set experience created by Waikato Regional Council, at our upcoming AGM on the 2nd of December at St John Hall in Coromandel Town.

COLVILLE
COMMUNITY HEALTH TRUST

We had a fantastic turnout for our community meeting back on October the 4th, (which we counted was around 60+ individuals). Our meeting provided an opportunity to talk about the provision of health services at the Colville Community Health Centre and offered a chance to meet the new GP service providers, including Nurse Practitioner Sonya Wirihana-Tawake, Dr Alex McLeod, Practice Manager Tiana Morrisey and receptionist/Healthcare assistant and Colville local, Krystle Dabb. Attendees made good use of the question time with this team and we sensed the general feeling in the room was pretty positive. A big thanks to the team from Coromandel for coming up and spending time with our community - we do believe this was quite a unique but valuable experience for all present.

We also had an opportunity to meet the funders from the two Primary Health Organisations (PHO's) that are involved with managing funding in our area. They left with improved information and a lasting impression of how important locally based health services are to this community. A big thanks also to the Hauraki and Pinnacle PHO's for making this trip to join us.

Finally, a huge thank you to everyone in our community who turned out for this meeting. It was so great to provide an opportunity for people to truly have their say and to connect with others on this very important issue. The Colville Community Health Trust had its AGM on the 11th of October. We had our quorum (plus some) attend, which always ensures a successful meeting. Health Trust Trustees now include: community elected Kate Armstrong, Nicole Brighthouse, Richard Campbell, Jackie Saul and Larisa Webb. St John have appointed Robyn Vinten to the Health Trust and Gavin Jeffcoat has been appointed by the Coromandel Colville Community Board. Krystle Dabb has been appointed by Coromandel Family Health Centre as one of the Colville Community Health Centre representatives. There is space for two more from the Health Centre, when the time is right. Jo Herbert stood down this election, and plans to work on her retirement skills, having completed 6 years with the Health Trust.

The Health Trust is about to employ a new manager and this will help immensely when working with our new provider and keeping the community updated with how things are progressing.

Till next time, keep safe and enjoy the start of the summer, weather.

Best wishes from the Colville Community Health Trust team.

Kia ora koutou,

We are excited to be hosting a workshop for parents and Kaiako on the 30th October on the ‘He Maapuna te tamaiti’ programme: to strengthen our skills as kaiako, parents and community to support the socio-emotional development of our tamariki. Get in touch if interested. If you miss this one, but are keen to know more, we may make this a regular programme.

Hari huri tau ki a korua, Wilma our dedicated Kaiako, and Eloise, our new pepe here, my niece. Welcome to our new kotiro, Kelly, and family from Coromandel, and welcome back Kauri.

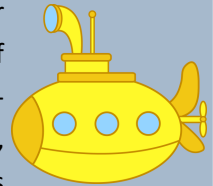

We have an ERO review in November, and they have agreed to come to Bush Kura this time. Aren't we lucky to have so many experiences to share with them?

Creative juices were flowing as our art-work for the Colville Art Festival came together. Our “yellow submarine” brings together our love for messy play as we used slimy paper mâché, and our love of foraging for treasure - both recycled trash, and natural materials washed up on our beach. We were practicing our construction skills, collaborative problem solving and kaiako humour in honour of this year’s Beatles theme. Our children also performed waiata at the Colville Festival at the Sunday night Variety show, inspired after such an empowering experience participating in the Coromandel Cultural Festival last month! Nga mihi ki a Colville Junction for sponsoring the free tickets for our Preschool Whaanau.

We are open: Tuesday to Friday, 8.45am-3pm, including term breaks.
20 free hours for 3 + year olds and for two year olds too from March 2024!* WINZ subsidies available.

Isn't Spring FANTASTIC!!!!

It's so great to see visitors coming up our way again and enjoying everything Colville & Beyond has to offer.

We always promise a great coffee, the best home baking, world famous burgers and just a great place to stop, relax, and unwind.

You can also find Kairaumati Polled Hereford beef cuts in our fridge for you to take home and enjoy.

We are open later Friday night

Happy Hour 4 till 6pm, kitchen open till 6pm
