Community Connections Collaboration

Kia ora community,
The delightful days of autumn are upon us, when the sun is still warming the earth, and fruits are falling abundantly. There is plenty to enjoy in this month's issue of the Panui. You can read about the wonderful creative community events that have recently unfolded, and begin to look forward to a few exciting and worthwhile opportunities popping up around the peninsula soon.

I sincerely hope you find what you are looking for!
All the best
Brooke, Pānui Editor

Kia ora koutou katoa,

I hope you're all well and enjoying the beautiful sunshine we've had this year.

What a difference from last summer! As I write it is the one-year anniversary of Cyclone Gabrielle. I wish to express our immense gratitude for all the support we've received from funders on behalf of the community to enhance resilience for future events.

- ◆ In the immediate wake of the cyclone we received a call from Community Waikato offering funding from the Tindall Foundation. Incredible responsiveness to community need!
- ◆ Following persistence on the part of our Manager's Assistant, Anne, who applied to a number of funders, we were very fortunate to receive funding from the Ministry for Primary Industries for three community generators to enable the Colville clinic and school to remain open and to set up a community response center as and when required.
- ◆ We also received funding from the TCDC Mayoral Disaster Relief Social Recovery Fund. This has funded a range of things for the community. For example, in April we hope to offer a workshop on food resilience. We will have more information on this in the next Pānui. We're delighted to have been able to purchase a community projector for use in the Colville Hall with this funding. Which, with funding from Creative NZ for a screen, means we're set up to do a winter mini short film festival!

So much to look forward to! The Colville Creative Pop-Up has returned with many exciting workshops to come (see page 8 for more details). We also have Youth Group this term – with lovely beach days planned for our tamariki, including a Children's Day Celebration on the second Sunday in March – for more information please go to page 5.

Hope you enjoy your month ahead!

- Larisa Webb, Colville Junction

COLVILLE COMMUNITY HEALTH TRUST

Kia ora koutou,

Writing this month's Panui, I'm remembering back to last year when Cyclone Gabrielle paid us a visit. What a different year we have had, the sun has been shining, a few days of rain here and there have meant the gardens are lush, grass is growing and the visitors are back. How very different it has been. There are reminders, like our roads, but they are slowly but surely being repaired.

This month, I would like to ask if anyone would like to support our fundraising efforts by donating items for our raffles. Honey, art prints, pottery, arts and crafts items - anything that will motivate visitors to our Health Centre to dig deep for those $2 coins to put in the jar. Drop your items at the Health Centre with a note for Nicole explaining what it's for. Thank you. Te Tara o Te Whai - Hauraki Locality would like to return to Colville to present their Community Plan, they would like to get feedback and perspectives from the community. We will let the community know the date and details as soon as it is confirmed. This is where you get to have your say about having a local service. We look forward to seeing a great turn out.

The Coromandel Family Health team are here at Colville Community Health Centre, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday each week, 8.30am until 4.30pm. You can phone for an appointment on the original Clinic number: 07 866 6618. A big thank you to the team for providing this essential service for our community. Ngā mihi nui,
- Colville Community Health Trust

Another busy February at
*The Colville Project

We welcomed Robyn Vinten as a new Trustee, and began her induction. Robyn brings a great range of skills and experience to our team. Nau mai e Robyn, we look forward to working together with you.

Our weed control programme, which started in January, continued in February. Thanks go to Richard Webster and his team for great work in continuing to address the moth plant issue. It was also great to see another neighbour valuing this work, and engaging the team to address the moth plant on their property. It's this collective approach which enables weed control programmes to be most effective.

Another long-standing offer was raised with the donation of two water tanks to TCP by long-time project supporters, Chris and Kay Ogilvie. The installation of these water tanks will assist with project development and with risk management mitigation for emergency events such as fire. Chris and Kay - ngā mihi mahana ki a kōrua.

Our recruitment drive for Funding and Marketing Support Persons closed. We were heartened and pleasantly overwhelmed by the number of applications submitted. Thanks to everyone who put their name into the hat - what an awesome response! Applications came from across Aotearoa/NZ, a sign that the Project is gaining momentum across the wider Waikato and motu. At the time of writing we are still shortlisting. We hope to be able to introduce new team members in the next Pānui.

Our various subcommittees and support persons continued to work behind the scenes on our formal housing strategy, our land management plan, concept design and in achieving the professional technical reports we require.

If you would like to donate, affirm previous/new offers of assistance or get involved in any way, please contact Katie:

Ngā mihi, The Colville Project Team.

Whakarongo Mai Listen to Me

Week 3 Term 1 2024

We started the Colville School year with a Whānau Fun Camp. It was a very special time for everyone and we would like to make it one of our Colville traditions. Reconnecting and strengthening our relationships at the start of the year is fun and it makes the academic learning even more powerful.

On our first day, we visited Driving Creek Railway and then stayed overnight at school. This was followed by a fun day at Otautu. Read our students' writing below to find out more. Each week our Y7 and 8 students publish their own magazine called Whakarongo Mai Listen to me. The learning focus for our writers this week has been to include additional detail and using open ended questions for interviews.

“On Thursday, Colville school went to Driving Creek! There were three groups of students, one group was going on the train, the second group was doing pottery and the third group was doing conservation”.

-Lockie

During school camp we played whole school hide and seek. All of the staff members were seekers and all of the students were hiders. Most of the rounds lasted ten minutes, five minutes for the students to hide and five minutes for the staff members to try and find us. My favourite thing about playing hide and seek was having a quiet chat with the person I was hiding with. I asked George & Susie what they thought and I also asked them if they had any tips.

“I love running around and my tip to is never let Kimberly find you,” George said.

Colville kids explore the wonders of Driving Creek Railway

“My favourite thing was watching all the parents have so much fun finding the children. They were very impressed with the Colville kids' hiding skills. My top tip is train a sniffer dog and let them do all of the hard work,” Susie said.

-Natalia.

We went to the beach while we were on the school camp. We played ‘duck, duck, goose’. Then we finally got to go swimming. It was so refreshing to just jump in, but we had to be behind the adults when we walked in the water then we stayed in front of them for our safety. I asked a couple students what they liked most and what they did at the beach.

Colville tamariki enjoy the sand and water

“I went swimming then I jumped on the kayak and went off. Me and my friends dug a huge hole,” said Kallem.

“Running around in the sand, and going home for the weekend,” said Emile. - Wint’r

My favourite activity was conservation because I love the bush, that's why I chose to write about bush walk. On the bush walk there was a creepy looking cave that was used for gold mining in the 1900's. The cave isn't used for gold mining anymore, instead it open for people to go look at the long legged cave weta that live in the cave. When my group went in the cave everybody was screaming their heads off because they thought the weta were gonna jump at them. I thought that the weta were really cool and I knew they weren't gonna do anything! It is actually rare to see the weta because they are endangered. When I got back to school I interviewed some of the kids, this is what I asked them and what they said. “What did you think of the weta?” Callen said: “The weta were great.” “What did you like about the weta?” Osborn said: “I liked that one of the weta jumped on him.” - Lockie

MEG Updates

Can you help our matuku-hūrepo/ Australasian bittern? They disguise themselves remarkably well for big wetland birds that stand nearly 70cm tall! Have you seen one in our local wetlands or heard the males distinctive “booming”? The population is nationally critical, only one step away from extinction, and they need our help to survive. MEG have recorded male matuku booming in several of the wetlands in northern Coromandel, like the Waikawau wetland where we conduct predator control for rats, cats, stoats and ferrets. A recent peninsula-wide survey coordinated by Predator Free Hauraki Coromandel Community Trust (PFHCCT) has recorded several populations of booming males looking for females in wetlands across Hauraki Coromandel. What we don't know is how successful the breeding will be with unknown numbers of females, reports of starving chicks, and decreasing numbers of matuku recorded at stronghold sites like the Whangamarino wetland. MEG team members attended a recent hui where we were challenged to think of ways that we could all decrease the threats to our wetland taonga. Ways we can help are doing things like restoring a wetland area, helping to trap predators around the edge of wetlands, reducing disturbance by people or stock inside wetlands, or driving slowly when you're passing any wetlands.
