Kia ora folks, winter is making its arrival known with a few chilly days recently.

On the traditional Celtic seasonal calendar, the first of May is winters beginning, known as “All Hallows Eve” (adapted to “Halloween” in many places.) It is said that this is the time of the year where nature’s magic is most alive and the veil between worlds is the thinnest. Often people would honour their ancestors in some way, and send out their wishes for times ahead. I hope you enjoy your own brand of winter magic and this issue of the Pānui,

COLVILLE YOUTH

Kia ora whānau,
What a beautiful Term 1 Colville Youth Group we have had!

A huge, amazing thank you to the whole community, especially the Colville Music Club and the Colville Fire station – we did not get a chance to thank you in the April edition as our last session had not yet happened when it went to print.

There will be no youth group this term, we look forward to seeing you all Term 3!

Ngā mihi,
Danielle

CLEANER VACAN-

Kia ora, we have a vacancy at Colville Junction for a cleaner for two hours a week.

For more information please contact Anne at assistant@colvillejunction.co.nz or phone 07 8666 920.

Colville Junction

Need to get some printing done? How about finding some clothing for the changing seasons? Or perhaps a good book to read? Want help with an issue? Or simply a friendly chat is on the cards. As well as all the behind the scenes work we do in the community, Colville Junction is also a hub for collaboration, connection and all things community. Pop in any time we are open!

The Colville Project

The Colville Project has the following part time positions available:

- ◆ Board Support
- ◆ Financial Support
- ◆ Technical Support

We are seeking support staff to commence as soon as possible. These preferably contracted roles will provide admin, financial and technical support to TCP Board at this very busy time. These roles will assist with and strengthen our progress towards achieving the development of the Wellbeing and Education Centre, as well as evolving other aspects of The Project.

We require people who are multi-talented team players, flexible, tech savvy, and available to work closely with the Board to progress The Colville Project.

We will accept applications for each role individually or any combination of the roles. Role details will be available on our facebook/website. If you have any queries, please email Jo (below), or call Jo on 021 569652.

Please submit your CV along with a letter expressing your interest to:

jo@thecolvilleproject.nz

Applications close 4pm
12 May 2023.

Colville is coming to the party! It was a hard summer, but we are catching up. Your support has made a huge difference - we have loved the response to our store rejuvenation and new lower price efforts. We still need your help however. Bypassing big freight charges helps us keep our prices low, so if you are travelling to Thames or Whitianga, or even Coromandel, and have room for a few bags or boxes, please let us know two days in advance.

We need two days to organise 'Click and Collect' orders, but once they're done, all you need to do is swing by Countdown or Pak'nSave, pick them up and drop them off with us. In return we will make a contribution to your fuel costs.

We are busy dreaming up ways to increase community participation and foot traffic in the store (YOUR store!), so keep an eye on our Pānui and Facebook posts to see what we come up with.

If you have any great ideas, let us know. If we all pull together we can ensure the shop will be here for another 40 years. How great would that be?

To nurture, to grow, to blossom

As our autumn term begins and we head into Paenga whāwhā we get ready to harvest our kumara, and sow carrots and winter greens. We have discovered many monarch caterpillars growing big and fat in our backyard, and slowly forming chrysalises. The children are fascinated. Each day we check them to see if any Monarchs are emerging. We have been singing our Purerehua waiata and reading all our butterfly books to deepen our understanding of these beautiful creatures and their life cycle.

We farewell three of our five year old's this term, Zachary, Josephine and Mack, celebrating all that makes them each so special and wishing them the best as they continue their learning journeys elsewhere. We will miss you all!

Spaces are currently available in the 2-6 year old age group. Coromandel whānau: we can pick up your children. We run a Mini-Van for 3+ year olds 3 days/ week from Coromandel to Colville return.

Our programme includes lots of outdoor fun, art and creativity, and we are so lucky to have three talented musicians sharing their music and waiata with our tamariki each week. 'Bush kura' adventures happen every Wednesday in the ngahere or at a local beach. Parents and little ones are welcome to visit free of charge on Wednesday mornings where our infants have the space to explore and build their confidence in a smaller group.

We provide quality education and care for 0-6 year olds in a licensed, community owned pre-school formed and directed by our families. If you would like to join our Governance Committee or Incorporated Society our AGM is coming up Mid-may. Inquire within.

Open Tuesday to Friday, 8.45am-3pm including term breaks.

Ā Mātou Kōrero, Our Story

It's the end of the first term of 2023. Even though we have had a few interruptions with cyclones and road closures we still managed to pack in a whole lot of learning too! The strength of our community shows in the resiliency of our learners and the support of our whānau when the going gets tough. Kia kaha Colville! We have had a wonderful final week of celebrations with our tamariki to acknowledge their collaboration and efforts in caring for our learning community.

Each day there was extra playtime to play fun games together. On Friday the tamariki enjoyed an afternoon tea of hot chips following their Whānau Time treasure hunt. Everyone enjoyed reading their new treasures provided by Duffy Books.

Congratulations to Jane and Simon Powell for winning the Garden to Table Raffle. All funds raised will go towards planting out our new garden beds as seen in our photo of the working bee. We thank you for your ongoing support of our school programmes.

There is nothing better than snuggling up with a good book! In our library on Tuesday evenings families have been taking part in the Reading Together Programme (see cover photo). We wish you all a restful and refreshing break with lots of time to enjoy reading together.

ACTION NEEDED! Please take the time to fill in this online form to nominate Colville School to win $10,000 to develop its sport program: search "AA insurance Big Little Sponsorship"

Mahamudra Centre Update

Some of you may have noticed our Stupa (the big colourful statue near the road) getting a makeover this past month. We have been so lucky that Venerable Yarphel travelled all the way from USA to volunteer his time to refresh all the paint and gold leaf on the Stupa.

Stupas, one of the most ancient icons in Buddhist art, are powerful symbols of the mind's limitless potential. In other words, they represent the mind of enlightenment. Stupas are filled with sacred images, mantras and the relics of holy beings.

It is said in the Buddhist scriptures that the benefits of walking around a stupa are infinite. It brings success on the spiritual path, purifies the body, removes life obstacles and disease and brings long life. One will cultivate good qualities, purify broken vows, negative karma and delusions. Lama Zopa says "It purifies negative karma collected from beginningless rebirths that are obstacles to happiness—temporary and ultimate happiness—and especially to actualising all the realisations on the path to enlightenment."

This is an invitation to come and walk around the Stupa anytime.

There is a small sign with instructions at the Stupa which explains that you walk in a clockwise direction. If you want to recite a mantra and visualise white enlightened light emanating from the stupa to touch and purify you then that is a wonderful practice to bring about the benefits mentioned. It is also just a great way to relax and calm the mind.

We have some quieter months ahead, but we still have some retreats happening and we would love to see you here. Remember to ask about the local's specials.

You can see more about all these retreats and more on our website

Roadside Spraying Survey

A survey is underway: please flick your views to corobackyard@gmail.com with Spraying Survey in the subject line of your email. Should roadside spraying continue or cease? Add your reasons too. Many thanks.

The spray being used is AG-Pro Glyphosate 500. The manufacturer’s SDS Safety Data Sheet calls Glyphosate “ecotoxic” and instructs that it must be kept out of “aquatic systems including drains.

The roadside spraying is costing us ratepayers $1,029,016 each year. Can you think of a better use for a million dollars? Let the Council know!

How to use the TCDC No-Spray register: contact TCDC Customer Services on 07 868 0200. <https://www.tcdc.govt.nz/Our-Services/Wildlife-Insects-and-Vegetation/No-Spray-Register>

As part of the deal, properties on the no-spray register are meant to “mow their berms”. That may be easy enough in a town situation, but it’s more like ‘weed-eat your road frontage’ in rural areas.

Northland’s Nature’s Verge Campaign

How about planting up your roadside verge in a mix of bee-friendly, nectar producing, pollen producing plants? Cordylines, flax, hebes, hoheria, olearia and tea tree are recommended natives and other flowers include:

- Camellias
- Borage
- Sunflowers
- Foxgloves
- Marigolds
- Pansies
- Daffodils

Read about the Northland Nature’s Verge Campaign and download free No Spray signs here: <https://www.floraandfauna.aotearoa.co.nz/natures-verge>

Of course your Nature’s Verge has to exclude any plants that are deemed noxious, invasive or unwanted pests, as listed here: <https://www.waikatoregion.govt.nz/services/plant-and-animal-pests>

Did you know that we have 27 endemic species – found nowhere else – of native bees in Aotearoa? Learn more here: <https://www.fortheloveofbees.co.nz/native-bees>

It’s past time to change to healthier, poison-free, climate-friendly and bee-friendly methods for our roadsides.

Stephanie McKee, from COBY - an informal network of Coromandel citizens who prefer to care for our lands without poisons. Te tiakitanga o nga whenua hei paitini kore.

Kia ora Community,

We had a lovely evening on the 1st of April with SWT AZ and the Remnants at the Colville Cafe, with $500 raised toward the new generator for the Health Centre. A huge thank you to Charlie and the band, to Nathan and all local talent on show! Also thanks to those who helped with set up and all preparations.

Fundraising continues of course toward The Colville Project Trust’s Wellbeing and Education Centre , and to that end we wonder if anyone out there has interesting items they could donate for our Health Centre raffles? Recent items that went to lucky winners include a print from Lindsay Garmson, a pottery plate by Kay Ogilvie, and items donated by the Himalaya Shop and local honey producers. Thank you all.

We would also like to remind everyone that we have some wonderful health practitioners who visit the Health Centre to offer their services to the community. Please contact them directly for an appointment. Details below.

Kia ora Community,

Our team are bedding in and we welcome back Nicole Keatley from maternity leave. Nicole is an essential part of our team and has slotted straight back in with great enthusiasm.

Flu clinics will be Wednesdays 12.30 – 1.30 throughout May and June. These booking slots are only for Flu immunisations so if you need an appointment at the clinic for something else, please book a separate appointment.

Our regular clinical staff over the week are made up of three St John Emergency Medical Technicians (EMTs), a Practice Nurse, a Primary Care Practice Assistant (PCPA) and a Health Care Assistant (HCA). When you book with a senior clinician (GP or an Extended Care Paramedic etc) you will be seen by one of these staff members first with the aim that you build a relationship with them. Overtime this ensures continuity of care for you whoever the locum GP, ECP or telehealth GP is at the practice.

We are fortunate to have Nurse Diane Morreel and Nurse Prescriber Nici Pucci with us in May, and Vic Ralph returns to us in the role of Extended Care Paramedic.

Thank you to John Rabarts for firewood. The clinic is always in search and always very grateful for donations of firewood. If you can offer any firewood, please get in touch with us. If you have firewood to offer but not the means to saw and deliver, we are still interested. Again, please get in touch if you can help in any way.

Thank you to the Clinic Trust who has supplied us with 5 refurbished computers through Digital Wings. This brings a huge improvement to our team.

Wishing you wellness as the seasons change. There are still some mild and sunny days to be enjoyed.

Prescription requests:

We only have a senior clinician available to complete your prescription request 3 days per week. If you need a prescription before we can complete it, please contact your regular pharmacy for an emergency 3 day prescription as well as letting the clinic know what you need. Any 48hr prescription requests received after 12pm will be passed to a staff member the next day. - Clinic Team

Outstanding Creativity & Teamwork from Colville's Budding Young Artists

In a community that values art and artistic expression, it's no wonder that even the preschoolers are producing such beautiful artwork.

This painting was completed by the joint efforts of Josephine and Sylvie, two of Colville's youngest budding artists.

It's thanks to the support of Colville Preschool, and especially the amazing, endlessly patient and kind teachers there that nurture our tamariki, that works of art like this can be created and enjoyed.

COLVILLE CO-OP UPDATES

Colville Cafe is in transition moving toward an event centre and bakery.

We hope to have the community using the cafe as a meeting place, formally and informally.

The Bakery is just getting organised and a menu of events is being created.

We hope to have some evening meals, pizza nights, and weekend lunches, as well as the space being available in the daytime for educational and arts workshops.

Reasonable fees will be charged for community use.

UCLA CONSERVATION REPORT

Great news,

To inspire urgent action to protect and restore the health of our seas in the Hauraki Gulf, Jono Ridler will make a record breaking attempt to cross the Hauraki Gulf from Karaka Bay on Barrier to Narrowneck in Auckland.

A 100 km swim taking 35 hours, in conjunction with the group Live Ocean founded by acclaimed sailors, Blair Tuke and Peter Burling, could not have come at a better time.

It is likely to take place on April 25th, but on April 17th, 18th, and 19th the hearings will have taken place in Paeroa on the proposal for the dirty unethical business of caged finfish farming in the Hauraki Gulf.

The Waikato Regional Council has approved the plan prior to these hearings, and the only thing left to negotiate are the conditions.

Section 42A restricts what can be set up as a condition and there is no acknowledgment of the morality or ethics involved in impoverishing poor countries on the coast of Africa and South America, whose small pelagic fish will be hoovered up to feed king fish at a rate of 2 to 1.

Worse news is that the plan change requested to expand the footprint of the farm by more than 30% has also been approved in the draft of the new coastal plan that only became public in February.

So the farce of public consultation once again is grinding to a close and no one should be surprised at the lack of public submissions as unfortunately, it is a complete waste of time.

On an upbeat note, it has been marvellous to work together with Forest and Bird, the Environmental Defence Society, and Waiheke environmentalists who are considering an appeal to the Coastal Plan change.

Create a lizard-friendly garden

Kia ora tatou katoa, mauri ora!

Being the mother of an inquisitive ten-year-old it came as no surprise when my daughter started creating a rock garden for the skinks that she had found in the backyard. I was mighty proud of her for her dedication in helping the local skink population, that was until we attended Doug Ashby's presentation at the MEG Summer Holiday Programme and found out that those skink eggs which we were finding under rocks or bark are not native skinks eggs at all, but belong to the plague/rainbow skink. In fact, no gecko or skink endemic to Aotearoa lays eggs, instead they deliver live young. The tiny wee little baby is completely independent as soon as it's born.

Doug and his wife Jane have worked for over thirty years raising awareness about lizards and geckos. Ashby's favourite gecko species is the Duvaucel's gecko. "Duvaucelly's gecko is the largest in NZ, is an active hunter, nocturnal and can bite. This lizard is extinct on the mainland and can only be found on offshore islands where predators have been eradicated. When they are abundant, they can be found everywhere all over the ground and up trees. Lizards pollinate flowering plants and they are a really important part of our ecosystem. However, 90% of gecko are at risk. Rats and cats are a major problem, especially feral cats which are basically living on skinks" says Doug Ashby. An important part of MEG's rat control project over 450 ha in Port Charles is to protect the whole ecosystem, including our native lizards and geckos. But if you want to protect these creatures in your own garden, consider trapping rats as well as providing a north facing rock habitat which skink and gecko will enjoy.

Ngārara, karara and mokomoko are some of the Māori names for lizards depending on which part of the country you are in. To Māori, they are considered incredibly sacred and important creatures which means you have to have a special permit to hold a native gecko or skink in captivity as they are fully protected under the wildlife act. Currently there are 126 species of lizard that have been identified in Aotearoa and new species are still being discovered. Te mokomoko a Tohu is the latest species of gecko to have been added to the species list in January this year.

Doug and Jane Ashby are returning this Saturday the 6th of May to present and share their fascinating knowledge and passion at the Driving Creek Festival. Children and families are all welcome and it's free. Come and learn about how you might encourage geckos to make their home in your garden. Other speakers presenting at the Festival is Dr Andrew Veale, who is an incredibly clever stoat geneticist and wildlife ecologist based at Manaaki Whenua Landcare Research where he leads research focusing on the use of genetics to aid conservation management. Diane Prince (MEG's local kiwi handler) and her dog Neo will also be presenting as well as Richard Johnson with his rat sniffing dog, Dr Trevor James who is an environmental weeds expert, Danilo Hegg presenting on invertebrates and Benson Lockhart who will be updating us on Kauri dieback and Myrtle Rust. We look forward to seeing you there!

Come and join our volunteers

We are looking for volunteers to join our team! Are you interested in conservation? If so, get in touch and we look forward to working with you!
