Youth Sailing Academy

The 2018 sailing season is underway! Lessons began February 12 and continue every second Monday at Otautu.

Our numbers have swelled and some of the older cadets are ready to graduate onto larger boats - so if anyone has an old Laser or similar stashed under the house, please get in touch. We are also on the lookout for a small shed or a patch of dirt to park a container at Otautu so our volunteers don't have to ferry trailer-loads of boats back and fourth each lesson - all ideas welcome.

Flying Books!

Order books from the Thames Library and have them delivered and collected in Colville! If that idea tickles your fancy contact Spike Mountjoy: 022 419 5524 or spike.mo@gmail.com

COLVILLE HARBOUR CARE
Te Ūmangawhā o Ngā Waka

"The communities of Colville working together to create a healthy harbour now and into the future"

Colville Harbour Care has funds to contribute to the fencing and planting of wetlands and waterways that feed into Colville Bay.

However, we recognise there are many questions and concerns out there, so we have invited those with experience to come and talk to us.

Gill and Kevin (Forest Bridge Trust, Kaipara), Andrew and Jenny Hayes (Waikato farmers), and Fred Litchwark (farmer and founder of Whaingaroa Harbour Care) will talk about their experiences of fencing and replanting natives on their farms. This is an opportunity to ask questions and get some practical ideas.

COLVILLE BAY LANDOWNERS WORKSHOP

Fencing and Planting Wetlands and waterways on your farm /land

Tree planting for soil conservation and water quality

Be part of the conversation - share your fears and ideas.

2-5pm Wednesday 21 March, Colville Hall (Everyone welcome)

Time to collect seed

Seed has set earlier than usual this year possibly due to the warm weather. Colville Harbour Care is eco-sourcing seed from the western catchments (from Papa Aroha to Port Jackson) to grow in our nursery. Eco-sourcing means collecting seed from native trees close to where you want to replant. Seeds collected in this manner, means the trees are better adapted to local conditions and more likely to survive. It also maintains genetic variation/whakapapa. (See the Eco-sourcing pamphlet in centre of April Pānui for more info.)

Saltwater Paspalum workshop: 5 March, 5pm

Colville Foreshore

This invasive subtropical grass is growing in small patches on the Colville Foreshore. We want to address it before it takes over as it has done elsewhere. Local research shows the best way to control it is to spray it with a selective herbicide. This allows the native sea meadow to remain and causes less damage to the soil and native plants than hand pulling it. Please come along if you would like more information on controlling the Salt Water Paspalum.

Working bees & BBQ: 10am – 12:30pm, 3rd Saturday of every month

If you would like email or text reminders about working bees please contact Beth (see below).

We will be keeping it fun and focusing on removing weeds in public areas of the Colville Bay estuary and on coastal strips around Colville Bay. We will also have one off working bees at the Colville Harbour Care nursery. Being part of a working bee is a great way to stay in touch with what we are up to and how we are working for a healthy and thriving Colville Harbour.

Fernbird/Mātātā seen and heard in Ūmangawhā Estuary

This sparrow sized, well camouflaged bird is found in the dense growth of New Zealand wetlands. Fernbirds are poor fliers. They typically scramble through dense vegetation, occasionally flying short distances with their tail hanging down. They can be difficult to see. Fernbird populations are declining, mostly due to loss of habitat and predation by introduced mammals. There are fernbirds in Colville Bay and Colville Harbour Care predator control helps

How to Promote Your Creative Work

Creative Waikato have kindly offered to our community to hold a workshop for artists. I have asked a few artists what would be the top pick from the 8 workshop options to have in Colville. The most popular response was for the workshop on promotion.

Please give me a call or let someone at CSSC know if you're interested. If we get enough interest Paul Bradley from Creative Waikato will come up to Colville to support our local artists.

Contact me: 021 110 7799, cdw1@colville.org.nz, pop into CSSC on Tues or Weds

CSSC Caravan - Available for hire

If you would like a quiet private space to get some work done the caravan at CSSC can be hired. The caravan has access to

- Video conferencing
- Internet
- Power

Please get in touch if you would like to book the caravan. CSSC: 07 866 6920.

Colville And Beyond

Currently both Colville And Beyond and Colville And Beyond Trails are planning for the 2018. Please get in touch with any feedback - it would be fantastic to hear from you.

Email: colvilleandbeyond@gmail.co.nz, or talk to Anna at CSSC and she can pass on to the Colville And Beyond team.

Become a JP in the Northern Coromandel Peninsula

Having a few more JP's in the Northern Coromandel peninsula would be great. If you are interested in becoming a JP CSSC can organise vouching for you to become a JP. Ally Davey (JP), has given a great run-down of the process about what is involved to be a JP.

Come have a chat if your interested/ have any questions. Anna 07 866 6920.

Waitangi Day Commemoration 2018

Colville Social Services Collective (CSSC) in association with The Ministry of Heritage and Culture (Manatu Taonga) and supported by Whitianga Countdown hosted the annual Waitangi Day Commemoration again this year, Te Umangawha O Nga Waka (Colville) as this years theme.

Due to unseasonal sub tropical cyclones the event was postponed and eventually held on Saturday 17th February at Otautu Bay in fantastic weather conditions which saw around 50 people attend, to try 'Waka ama' for the first time and share in a bbq and refreshments.

Following the Whakatau lead by Jamie Ryan, Te Puru Waka Ama Club members then provided specialist instruction for the use of the double hulled waka, hoia and safety equipment.

Participants were thrilled with this opportunity to learn basic skills of navigating a waka and were also privileged to have local history and traditional knowledge shared by Jamie Ryan while aboard the waka, thank you to these Tohunga for sharing their Matauranga.

There was much excitement and enthusiasm to hold a similar event again in Colville and the significance of the Waitangi Day Commemoration was discussed after the days activity during the bbq which was concluded with a Waiata.

Many thanks to the CSSC Trustees who volunteered their time on the day and thanks again to the local community, holiday makers and international travellers who made it a successful event.

Incredible Years Parenting Programme 2018

The Incredible Years® is a highly successful parent programme provided to families around New Zealand. This programme involves parents attending fun interactive weekly group sessions. We know parenting can be challenging at times and some support can make a big difference! The sessions are run over 1-2 school terms and involve plenty of time to discuss and practice new ways to manage children's challenging behaviour, get ideas for growing positive social skills in children, and find ways to enhance relationships in families.

For more information about the programme, visit www.incredibleyears.com or Ministry of Education – Special Education and in our Waikato/ Upper Coromandel Peninsula contact Coromandel Independent Living Trust (CILT) on 07 866 8358 or www.cilt.org.nz.

Hi folks

Well the heat and humidity have been tiresome of late, funny as it won't be long before we will be wishing for summer again.

Following up on last month's White tail spider information we have a handout developed by our last Intern, Cherry so do ask for this if you want to know a bit more about these creatures.

We have been very busy over the summer and that peak summer 'busyness' seems to have continued. We have a new Trainee Intern, Tom Southwell here for six weeks. We also welcome our first fourth year student, Lauren Holmes, who is here for two weeks. We will continue to offer these placements over the year in our commitment to training the medics of tomorrow. Our learning environment is pretty unique for students from all disciplines and when the time is right, we hope to attract other students as well.

Sometimes finding somewhere for our students to stay is a bit tricky and we are always looking for options - one example we were wondering about was a 'billet' option for our fourth year students. If you have any ideas that we could explore, do give Jo at the Clinic a call.

Recently someone donated several packets of hearing aid batteries. They are Rayovac Extra Advanced 13 batteries. If you would like some, please contact the reception staff.

Coming up on 5th April in Coromandel is a 'free driver refresher' course for the 65+ being promoted by TCDC in partnership with Age Concern. This is seen as being a confidence builder, with options for more coaching if required. Please talk to the practice team if this is something you think would benefit or - perhaps you are a relative of someone who could benefit from this.

Till next time, The team at Colville Community Health Centre

OPP SHOP NEWS

Thankyou for all your donations. In case you did not realise it is becoming more difficult to pass on B-grade stuff, the 'old stuff' gets disposed of at cost. So please, CSSC only welcomes good quality CLEAN goods. Thankyou again. We are probably the cheapest opp shop on the peninsula! AND we have two dedicated, enthusiastic and caring volunteers, who are not rubbish handlers. Please respect their time.

Colville Renaissance

I came up to Colville to pay respects to Alan MacDonald and although it was a sad day it was also a great chance to catch up with so many old friends and with the community. Recently I returned to meet with the CSSC Team to learn about the Colville Project which I am keen to support. I heard about the Harbour Care work and I was also excited to see one of our lovely young people is now teaching at Colville School. The feeling I have is of a community working hard to develop and make it possible for people to have homes and employment in the local area. A health and education hub could be a huge asset in strengthening Colville. Now that I am back in Hauraki it's great to see the Moehau region going strong and also all of us who are connected to this beautiful place can help the dream become real.

COMMUNITY HEALTH TRUST

Greetings from all of us at the Colville Community Health Trust (CCHT),

First off, thank you to Trust Waikato for their generous donation towards our operating costs for the coming year. They, along with other funders have kept us running for many years.

Here is the MISSION STATEMENT from our TRUST DEED, to help you understand what we are about and why we are so involved in THE COLVILLE PROJECT.

“To provide health and wellness focused services and facilities, which meet the needs of Colville; that are holistic, accessible, people friendly, sustainable and progressive.”

A big thank you to 2 of our trustees, Dr Kate Armstrong and our chairperson Michael James for the many volunteered hours they have and are continuing to put in so that we can have a purpose built Community Facilities Centre in Colville. This is an enormous job. Thank you too to members of CSSC with whom we are collaborating, all helping to make this worthwhile project happen. THE COLVILLE PROJECT!

CCHT has been fundraising for years towards the BUILDING itself. Now, we have an enormous focus on acquiring the funds FOR THE LAND. If you would like to make a donation, be it big or small, it will all help. You can internet bank to Kiwibank Account 38 9007 0484491-06 The Colville Project; or drop into to see us at our small office in the Medical Centre building, 2299 Colville Road. THANK YOU.

Congratulations to Toni Cowern from Gt Barrier Island. She won our latest raffle! Thank you to Nici Greulich and Barbel Schulze (the artists) for the large wall hanging. To Tellic Evans for the honey and Kay Ogilvie for 2 pieces of her pottery...all donated items. What a great prize!
Have a good month. Enjoy the Colville Arts Festival!

Changing landscapes

It is not only animal pests that threaten our biodiversity.

Invasive Weeds not only visibly change our iconic landscapes they also exclude many of our native species from the areas of infestation. For example thick swathes of montbretia and kahili ginger restrict and exclude feeding or nesting of ground dwelling native species thus creating a loss of habitat. Those with wind borne seeds include wilding pines, moth plant and pampas. These spread readily throughout the area. Bird spread seed of climbing asparagus, cotoneaster, ginger, woollie nightshade and honeysuckle mean these species can be spread some kilometers from the source plants making it a huge challenge to control.

Do you know your toetoe from your pampas?

Pampas is a very invasive grass. Its leaves are razor-sharp hence its common name, 'cutty grass'. It is a serious threat to some natural areas like sand dunes, stream banks and coastal cliffs where it can completely replace native vegetation. It is a particular problem on roadsides (reducing visibility), along railways, in quarries and in newly planted forests. Pampas can be a fire risk due to the large amount of dry matter it produces. It also harbours pests such as rats, mice, rabbits and possums.

Native Toetoe have drooping flower heads which are creamy yellow. They have a white waxy covering on the leaf base and livestock are unlikely to eat it. Toetoe does not snap readily and dead leaves droop but don't form a spiral.

Pampas have upright flowering stems, white, pink or purple in color. The leaves tear easily and are attractive to livestock. Pampas snaps readily when given a sharp tug and dead leaf bases form spirals which look like wood shavings.

NATIVE TOETOE

PAMPAS

What can you do?

Pampas are flowering now, the best way to help limit the locations that have pampas is to break the stem and collect the seed heads. Pampas are prolific seeders and seeds are widely dispersed so ensure you dispose of the seed heads wisely.

For more information or if you would like some help with weed identification contact info@meg.org.nz

We are grateful to Ven. Yönten for her time here this summer. She won't be returning until late 2019 so we'll be missing her very much!

March programmes with Sarah Brooks

9-11 Mindful Photography – it was a wonderful and enriching programme last Spring, so we're running it again. Aimed at beginners wanting to learn how to use their camera and better composition, but even a professional took the last course and left happy.

23-25 Meditation for a Calm and Happy Mind – a beginner's course with instruction, meditation practice, and discussion

Save the dates: 15-24 June Venerable Robina Courtin returns! (Details are on our website.)

Venerable Nangsel (Bernice) will be taking a year-long sabbatical starting 1 April, so we hope you'll take time this month to stop by and thank her for her many years of leading Mahamudra Centre and being a valued part of the Colville community. Also watch for the announcement of a more formal gathering to say thank you sometime in March.

We encourage members of the local community to come to our courses and retreats, so offer them to you on a donation basis to make them accessible to all.
